

Attention All Pennsylvania Agencies!

Calling all publications!

The State Library is required under The Pennsylvania Code and by Management Directive 205.23 205-23.pdf to have 70 copies of each of your agency's publications. This includes any time that you update or change a publication. This is so 50 or 100 years from now there is a place that people can come to learn about the government of Pennsylvania.

The State Library of Pennsylvania is the only Regional Depository Library, the principal resource in Pennsylvania for federal and state government publications, in Pennsylvania.

The Library serves as the official depository for all printed publications of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, with more than 50,000 titles, many dating back to colonial times. What would someone find if looking for your agency's publications at the State Library?

· The 70 copies of your publications are requested because the State Library distributes copies to libraries across Pennsylvania that are designated as depository libraries

Is your agency is fulfilling this mandate?

How do you get these publications to the State Library?
